TWO MEN KILLED

FILLMORE MEN MEET DEATH ON WAY FROM ELKS' MEETING

Glendale Lodge of Elks is in mourning today. Last night a large number of the members of this order met at the club rooms and discussed matters in connection with the building of the new club house which will be started soon. It was a sort of jolly-up meeting and there was much satisfaction expressed as to the excellent condition of the lodge which makes possible the new home. A supper was served and it was about midnight when the forty members who reside at Fillmore and had driven down to attend the meeting started for home. As the seven or eight cars left the club headquarters there were many warnings given to drive slowly as it had been raining, the boulevards were slippery and the cars had their side curtains on. At the Newhall crossing of the Southern Pacific one of the cars containing five men was struck by an engine. Young G. Brooks and Bernard Touhey were killed instantly. James Sawyer was injured perhaps fatally, Walter Collins, who was driving, was cut about the head and face, and J. B. Miller was badly bruised. The dead and injured were placed aboard the train and taken to Los Angeles. The men were all members of Glendale lodge No. 1289 and were residents of Fillmore.

COMRADE GIRVAN PASSES AWAY

William J. Girvan passed away at the Soldiers' home in Sawtelle on February 18 at the age of 79 years. He had made his home in Glendale for the past six years with his daughter, Mrs. Emil Baruch, and family, at 1010 Maple avenue, and was quite a familiar figure in Glendale, being seen often on our streets with his little granddaughter, Margaret Baruch. He was taken ill about three months ago, and, growing worse was taken to the Soldiers' Home a few weeks ago. He was a native of New York and was one of the first volunteer soldiers, enlisting in the 11th New York Volunteers, Company F. Besides Mrs. Baruch he leaves a daughter in Jersey City and one in New York City. The remains were laid to rest in Sawtelle Monday with full military honors. Among those who attended the funeral from Glendale besides the Baruch family were Mrs. W. F. Sherwood, Mrs. Burson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Binns, Mrs. M. Schick, Mrs. Boland, Mrs. Schoenfeld, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hester, Mr. and Mrs. Terrill and a number of old comrades.

$45,000 ELKS' CLUBHOUSE ASSURED

The regular Monday evening meeting of the B. P. O. E. was of particular interest as the building committee, of which J. W. Usilton is chairman, A. L. Weaver secretary and Peter L. Ferry treasurer, complemented by R. M. Jackson, L. C. Forrest, James W. Pearson and A. D. Pearce, reported the completion of the plans for the new clubhouse and the fact but $3000 worth of bonds needed to be subscribed to finance the building.

Alfred F. Priest has been employed as architect and the plans for the building which will be a three-story structure, captivated all the members who saw them. The new Elks' clubhouse will be located on the four lots owned by the lodge on Colorado street, just east of Brand, and will cost approximately $45,000.

DEATH OF ISAAC SEVERNS

Mr. Isaac Severns, who had long been in feeble health, passed away Monday evening, February 19, shortly after eight o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. F. Tatlow, 1411 Oak street, at the age of 86 years, 8 months and 14 days. Mr. Severns was born in New Jersey June 5, 1830. He had been living in Glendale the past seven years.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Pulliam Undertaking Parlors. Interment at Grand View cemetery.

WASHINGTON PARTY

Mrs. C. O. Pulliam and her committee are working hard to make the Washington Party to be given Thursday evening by Glen Eyrie Chapter, Eastern Star, one of the best of the many brilliant social affairs the chapter has held. There will be music and cards and a splendid program is being prepared. Colonial dances in colonial costumes will be features of the program. A lunch will be served also.

FOUNDERS' DAY

GLENDALE CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY OF NATIONAL MOTHERS' CONGRESS

The Parent-Teacher associations of Glendale celebrated Founders' day at an all-day meeting at the Presbyterian church Monday. Just twenty years ago the National Congress of Mothers began its existence and it has since been fostered by the finest women of the nation, and its influence is felt in every corner of our land. Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Glendale Federation, presided, and the presidents of the eight Glendale Parent-Teacher associations acted as a reception committee. The meeting opened at 10 o'clock with a vocal solo by Mrs. Hellyer, Mrs. Alexander Mitchell being the accompanist. Other enjoyable musical numbers of the day were a piano solo by Mrs. Abell and a vocal solo by Mrs. D. E. Stewart. Mrs. Smart brought greetings from the W. C. T. U. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett from the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which she is president. Mrs. W. A. Galentine of Redondo, who is president of the First district of the California Congress of Mothers, gave an address on "Mothers to Men" and read a chapter from "Mothers to Men" by Zona Gale, dealing with the opening of schools and civic centers and based her further remarks upon this subject. Mrs. C. C. Noble refreshed the minds of those present on the national officers and the work that has been accomplished since the first National Congress of Mothers, which was held in the Arlington hotel, Washington, D. C. Very great doubt was expressed then that so large a hall could be filled, but the hall was filled and it was necessary to use the nearby churches for overflow meetings. This meeting was attended by the late Mrs. Caroline Severance of Los Angeles. Although California stands at the head of child welfare work, Mrs. Noble showed how much more there was to do and said if people only knew the work our national officers were doing, money would flow into their coffers without limit. A bountiful lunch was served at noon under the supervision of the courtesy committee, of which Mrs. A. S. Chase is chairman.

In the afternoon there was a symposium on ideals, the first paper being on "Ideals of the Home," by Mrs. Chas. H. Toll. If we would raise our ideals to the standard she set, we would then have the ideal home. Prof. H. E. Howe showed how the child entering school from the home had its share in furnishing the ideals of the school, and Rev. W. E. Edmonds spoke on the ideals of the church, showing the close connection of all these ideals. Both speakers laid upon the home the greatest responsibility in raising the ideals of the nation. Dr. Jessie Russell talked on the legislation in which the women should be interested.

The chairman of patriotism offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted and the secretary was ordered to forward a copy to President Wilson:

"Whereas, The attitude of mind and the resulting conduct of Woodrow Wilson, president of our country, is one that appeals to the hearts of our women in their wishes for the good of the human race and its best realization of the truest interpretation of patriotism,

"Be it resolved, That the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations convened this day, February 19, 1917, does forward to the President its hearty approval of his past conduct in his efforts to keep our country out of war, and urges his continuation of a policy that places the lives of our husbands and sons before any international entanglements or differences and further to disapprove the insistence of individuals upon their so-called 'rights' to travel on the high seas in this time of war and thus jeopardize our country by their demand to be protected in so doing."

The meeting closed with the singing of "America." Had it not been for the rain there would have been a larger attendance, but those who did attend were amply repaid. The papers on ideals of home and school were so full of good things that it is felt that all would like a copy of them and we hope to publish them in the near future. This meeting was one of the most notable ones ever held by the women of Glendale and the program was worthy of a much larger hearing.

ACKLEY FUNERAL

Funeral services for Forrest M. Ackley who passed away Sunday in Arizona will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pulliam Undertaking Parlors.

HOUSEWIVES BOYCOTT POTATOES

LOS ANGELES LEAGUE WILL NOT USE POTATOES AS LONG AS PRESENT PRICE PREVAILS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20.—The Housewives League of this city to-day declared a boycott on potatoes. None of the several thousand members will use potatoes as long as they sell at the present price of five cents a pound. The league may boycott other staple vegetables also. A conference will be held to-morrow night to discuss methods of combatting the high prices of foods. Onions are selling at twelve and a half cents a pound in Los Angeles stores and the wholesale price of lima beans to-day reached 11 cents a pound.

BREAD RIOT IN NEW YORK

FIVE HUNDRED WOMEN STORM THE CITY HALL AND DEMAND IMMEDATE ACTION ON PART OF MAYOR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Crying, "We want bread. We are starving," and demanding immediate action regarding the high cost of food, over five hundred women, practically all of them carrying babies, stormed the city hall to-day demanding an interview with the mayor. Most of the women were foreigners. After the police reserve had been called out and had dispersed the crowd a committee was allowed to enter the city hall. The mayor will meet the women late to-day or to-morrow. Thousands were attracted by the demonstration. The women declared it impossible to live with food prices as high as they are at present.

SOLDIERS MOURN CHIEF

FLAGS AT HALF MAST IN SAN ANTONIO—FUNSTON WILL BE BURIED IN NATIONAL CEMETERY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 20.—The body of General Frederick Funston, who died suddenly here last night, will be taken to San Francisco, leaving here to-night. He will be buried at the National cemetery at the Presidio. All the troops around the bay will participate in the funeral services which will probably be held Friday or Saturday. Flags everywhere in San Antonio are at half mast and the troops are mourning.

TO HANDLE SITUATION WITHOUT WAR

WANT BILL TO ALLOW PRESIDENT TO USE ARMY AND NAVY IN COMMERCE WITH BELLIGERENTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Secretary of State Lansing and Atty. General Gregory have asked the Judiciary committee to immediately pass a bill to empower the president to handle the present situation without war, making it possible for him to employ the land and naval forces to "enforce compliance with and prevent violation of the obligations of the United States under the laws of nations." Such a bill would allow the president to employ the army and navy in commerce with any of the belligerents as long as no international law is violated.

ORLEAN DUE IN BARRED ZONE

FIRST AMERICAN SHIP CARRYING CONTRABAND FACES SUBMARINE BLOCKADE TO-DAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—The steamer Orlean, the first American ship carrying contraband to brave the German blockade since the break in German-American relations, which sailed from this port February 9th, is due in the submarine zone on her way to Bordeaux to-day. The Orlean is a 5,000 ton freight steamer laden with contraband for the French government. She sailed unarmed, unstriped, flying the American flag and owned, officered and mostly operated by Americans.

PASSES ESPIONAGE BILL

MEASURE WILL PREVENT WIDESPREAD SYSTEM OF OBTAINING GOVERNMENT SECRETS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The Senate passed the Espionage bill to-day. This measure will enable the government to prevent what is believed to be a widespread system of obtaining information in regard to this country's defenses and army and navy equipment.

HOTEL FIRE IN MILWAUKEE

FORTY GUESTS NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH EARLY THIS MORNING WHEN HARTFORD BURNS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 20.—Over forty guests narrowly escaped death early this morning when the Hartford hotel burned. There were several thrilling rescues.

HONOR THE DEAD

POST, CORPS AND SONS OF VETERANS UNITE IN MEMORIAL SERVICE

N. P. Banks Post, Corps and Sons of Veterans united on Sunday afternoon at their hall on Glendale avenue in a memorial service honoring Washington, Lincoln and McKinley. This service is an annual event and while the attendance was not as large as on some former occasions, the program was one of the best ever given. Rev. C. R. Norton, chaplain of the post, led in prayer, and beautiful and appropriate music was furnished by Dr. P. O. Lucas, Miss Elsie Anderson and Roger Baker. Addresses were made by Jos. V. Griffin representing the Sons of Veterans, Miss Midcalf for the Woman's Relief Corps and Comrade Gibbons representing the G. A. R.

C. H. Clark spoke for the G. A. R., especially commemorating those of N. P. Banks Post who have been called from earth the past year. Mr. Clark said:

I am requested to say a few words in commemoration of those of our own comrades who during the past year have answered to the last summons and crossed the great divide. Each recurrent year the grim reaper claims an increased toll from the depleted ranks of the veterans of the Civil War; one by one those who survived the ordeal of the long campaign and forced marches, the sanguinary conflict of the battlefield or the horrors of the prison pen, and when the long struggle was ended in a triumphant victory they returned to their homes to exemplify in the peaceful pursuits of life the undying principles for which they had fought, of loyalty to our country and flag, devotion to its civil institutions, its homes and firesides and social equality, are to-day being called to their final reward. During the year N. P. Banks Post No. 170 G. A. R. has been called upon to perform the last sad rites for the following named comrades and members: J. H. Shugart, J. Van Why, J. T. Knox, T. Atkinson, A. Andrews, Reed Dodd, Jas. D. Seymore, W. H. Dobbins.

Eight noble men, respected and honored citizens, loyal and devoted members of our beloved order, comrades ever ready with willing hands and generous hearts to aid the unfortunate, the suffering or sick comrade and to exempilfy that fraternity of feeling which binds us together in a common brotherhood, that charity which warms the heart to generous deeds and noble purposes. That loyalty which impelled them in the prime of their young manhood to consecrate themselves upon the altar of our country, realizing that they were doing it for the flag that represented the freedom of a nation of sixty million people, and through the ensuing years in loyalty to their homes, their country, and to their comrades in arms. Brave and valiant in war, honorable and trustworthy in civil life, fulfilling in a high degree the duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

Can any words which I may utter here to-day add to the laurels of such? The glory of their lives has been achieved in deeds of heroism and in splendid manhood in the varied activities during a period of half a century since the victorious restoration of our national integrity and the reuniting of our people under the dominion of one country and one flag.

Yet it is fitting and right that we should here give expression to words that fittingly acknowledge the honor and love that we cherish for the memory of these our comrades whose presence we shall no longer enjoy among us, but whose virtues are undying qualities that remain for their surviving comrades and posterity to cherish and emulate. It is well that we who are still blessed with a reasonable degree of vigor and health lose not sight of the increasing responsibilities that rest upon us to maintain the honor of our noble order in fulfilling in letter and spirit the purposes that have bound us together in the bonds of Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty.

At no time in our history has the need been so great as to-day for devotion to the needs of our comrades who for obvious reasons are no longer able to be with us at our stated gatherings and to take part in our deliberations. The word of cheer and encouragement from a visiting comrade may do much to give comfort and pleasure to the declining years and to cheer the lonely hours of those who are shut in from the associations we are still privileged to enjoy. We should deem it more than a duty to be performed, but rather a joyous privilege that we may thus give expression to the nobler impulses which our Beloved Master commended when he said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR DEPARTMENT NIGHT AT REVIVAL MISSION

Tonight will be Intermediate and Senior department night at the special services now in progress at the First Methodist church. These departments from the Bible school will be the guests of honor. All other departments are expected to be largely represented. There will be a cordial welcome for everybody. Mr. Guice will speak.

Last evening was Baraca, J. O. C., Philathea and Young Business Men's class night. And in spite of the weather conditions there was a goodly number present and all were in a fine mood. After a rousing song service Mr. Snudden spoke on "The Chain Gang—A Hero's Glory." He took as his lesson the words "And the Phillistines laid hold on him and put out his eyes and they brought him down to Gaza and bound him with fetters of brass and he did grind in the prison house." Judges 16:21. "Be sure your sins will find you out." Num. 32:23. He said: "Some people think that this world wou'd be a much better place in which to live if thoughts of sin and righteousness, of religion and God did not intrude. They say it would be much better if they could do as they please without constantly having the thought of God before them. There must always be thoughts of right and wrong, of men and God, as long as we have human and Divine fellowship.

"The invisible chains are the ones that make the prisoners. The world's chain gang is a large one, but they are not all in jails. Men bind themselves in shackles of selfishness, deceitfulness, greed, lust and other things. Sin is not simply the absence of good. I grant you that darkness is the absence of light and that weakness is the absence of strength. With the loss of strength a man cannot lift the burdens he once could. If sin is simply the absence of good then a man lacking desire for righteous living would simply be a passive quantity in the world, doing neither good nor evil. But he has all his faculties and powers and often with intense enthusiasm dedicates them to evil habits and practices.

"If sin is but the absence of good the Bible is woefully at fault. From first to last its messages are directed against sin in men. The Christ was named because he should break its power. 'Thou shalt call his name Jesus for it is he that shall save his people from their sins.'

"This lesson of Sampson teaches us that physical perfection is no criterion of moral character. A woman may be as beautiful as Cleopatra and just as foolish. A man may have the form of an Apollo Belvidere and be as base and corrupt as man can be. Physical perfection only makes the failure of life more tragic.

"Mental brilliance is not a sign of moral excellence. Mental keenness without moral control is behind the world's injustices. In the dismantling time of life the man of only physical and intellectual development will present a sorry spectacle. 'Flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God.' A lot of the powers that men now exercise will mean nothing. There will be no electric railways in the other world. God is spirit and they that worship him must worship in spirit and in truth. Engineering skill will not mean much in that world. There will be no law cases for there will be no injustice, consequently the keenness and diplomacy of the lawyer will mean little. At that time only character will avail.

"There is a stewardship of the whole man. You recognize a man's responsibility for his money. There is likewise a stewardship of the intellectual and physical. You cannot carry a message of God to men only through the physical.

"The glory of man is God. The invisible shackles that bind men reveal the need of a liberator. 'If the Son shall make you free then are ye free indeed.' The most perfect physique does not justify pride. It will soon be said of it 'earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust.' Only the spiritual will abide."

In connection with the services prayer meetings have been held each day. Those for tomorrow will be at the residences of Mr. Delos Jones, 524 S. Louise, Mrs. T. A. Wright, 305 S. Louise, and Mrs. Lindley, 104 S. Kenwood. These services are at 2:30 in the afternoon.

WEATHER FORECAST—Unsettled weather. Probably rain tonight or Wednesday. Southwesterly winds.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1917.

TELLS OF RARE FRUITS CALIFORNIA CAN GROW

How California can now adorn and delight the American family table with such novel fruits of the earth as dates of unfamiliar types, Japanese persimmons, jujubes, Spanish mulberries, kumquats, the roselle, and the cassava (from which tapioca is made), is told in a new bulletin on "Agriculture in the Imperial Valley: A Manual for Settlers," written by Walter E. Packard and obtainable free by writing to the College of Agriculture at Berkeley. The University's object in issuing this manual is to give settlers in the agricultural wonderland won back from the desert the results of five years of scientific investigation at the Imperial Valley Experiment Farm established at Meloland by the University in 1912.

"Its feet in the water, its head in the fire, the date palm has flourished marvelously as an immigrant to the reclaimed desert of Southern California from northern Africa and the Persian Gulf. It has been shown that dry or "bread dates" can be produced so cheaply that they would be profitable if sold for a very few cents a pound, while others, such as the famous Deglet Noor, demand such care and skill in their production that they command sale as a confection, at prices as high as the choicest of candies. The Arabs have never developed the date by scientific selection, so work of great interest is being done by California date-growers in planting seedlings, retaining only the best of the resulting plants, and thus starting the development of new California varieties of dates which in time will win world fame.

The fact that figs will ripen on the desert as early as May, and early table grapes in June, means that "every man's own vine and fig-tree" will be a proverb full of meaning in the Imperial Valley.

The development on the desert of cotton, another newcomer in California, has been highly successful, but has been hampered by the fact that too many types of the race have come, and that the resulting hybridization has been a difficulty. The University particularly recommends the Durango long-staple cotton, which commands a premium of from two to six cents a pound over short staple cotton. California cotton commands a premium over cotton grown in the South because of the greater whiteness of the fibre.

Six thousand cars of cantaloupes were shipped from the Imperial Valley during May and June, 1915, and watermelons ripen by June. Barley, the most successful grain crop of the valley, ripens early enough to be followed by a crop of corn or of milo maize, the sorghums thriving during the heat of the desert summer.

Besides telling how to raise fruits, vegetables, and field crops, Mr. Packard gives much valuable information on planning a rotation system, so as to maintain the fertility of the soil and prevent the growth of weeds, on the controlling of desert pests, such as grasshoppers, plant lice, the alfalfa worm, or the "farmer ant," which sometimes kills not only alfalfa or vines, but evenso some claim—young pigs—and on the importance of making soil-borings from time to time so that the farmer may know whether he is giving the soil as much irrigation as his crops need, and—equally important—not too much water, for too much irrigation is not only wasteful but harmful.

LOOKING AFTER THE FOUNDATIONS

Put people on the land and enable them to stay there is the slogan of progressive California.

Cheaper capital more families that will go on land and become producers, and eliminating speculative inflation of land values, is a constructive program.

Hold this great state together by developing all sections and by encouragement of immigration and agriculture, is the only policy that should appeal to Californians.

Producing more mineral wealth, more wealth out of the soil, more wealth out of the forests and the waters, are the four great primary industries the state should encourage.

All that comes after by manufacturing, transportation, exchanges and social uplift can be trusted to take care of itself if the foundation is cared for.

That seems to be the fight one organization—the California Development Board is making—it is not fighting up in the air in the realm of theoretical political economy.

For twenty years this organization has existed and has absorbed at least three other large organizations less scientifically constructed to do their work.

It has swallowed, survived and combined the California State Board of Trade, the Manufacturers and Producers Association of California and the California Promotion Committee.

It carries no dead timber but has active and associate members in each and every county of the state while the exhibits of 38 membership counties fill the upper story of the Ferry building.

ECONOMIC VALUE OF MONTHLY PAYROLLS

Bills are before the legislature to compel weekly wage payments instead of monthly.

A survey made in Pittsburgh of the various system of paying wages showed queer results.

It showed that men paid their wages by the month had more money in the banks than when paid oftener.

The survey also proved that men paid by the month owned more homes than men paid under any other system.

They owned more homes and had more money in the banks than men paid twice a month drawing the same wages.

Those paid twice a month had more money on deposit and owned more homes than those who were paid off weekly.

Those paid off each day at same wages owned no homes at all and had no bank accounts to speak of.

That is said to be the condition of the very poor people of Mexico who are paid off each day.

It seems the oftener wage earners are paid the more incentive and opportunity there are to spend.

STUDIES IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

By Walt. Le Noir Church

STUDY XXVIII. GLENDALE DEVELOPMENT.

Very interesting answers are being received to the question: "What, in your judgment, is Glendale's strongest inducement for newcomers?" Among the best were those given at table by the eleven men assembled last night for an informal dinner given at Easton's, by Mr. A. T. Cowan, Vice-President of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, to the newly elected Executive Committee and the Secretary-Manager.

After enjoying a good meal, well served, at six o'clock, the party remained at table discussing Chamber of Commerce affairs and having a good sociabl time till 8:30, though President Clendenin, Mr. Usilton and Mr. Jackson had to leave earlier, the former to catch a train, the other two for some previous important engagement connected with the proposed new Elks Club building—which "will be begun by June first," so Mr. Usilton said; a building of great promise for Glendale. It was decided to accept the offer of the Board of County Supervisors, of part of the exhibit returned from San Diego, and the Secretary-Manager was authorized to perfect arrangements for getting it to Glendale. It was thought best for him also to accept the invitation cordially extended by the genial secretary of Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Wiggin, and his urbane assistants, Mr. A. S. Dudley of Glendale, to attend at Rialto, February 24, the annual meeting of the secretaries of the Southern California Chambers of Commerce.

Reports from different sections of the city showed a decided increase of active interest among the citizens of Glendale in the plans of the Chamber or Commerce to bring new people to Glendale, for the betterment of all concerned. It is doing positive, permanent good to our fellow humans to induce them to locate in Glendale.

To still further develop such local interest, it was suggested by Mr. Lilly that the Chamber of Commerce give an entertainment—something really good, and that various organizations of our city be invited to provide part of the program from their own talent—something tried and approved. Mr. Church suggested that he hoped the Glendale Union High School Boys' Glee Club would contribute their Hawaiian songs, which are unusually fine. Then what about Richard Bery's interpretations on the piano, and the Girls' Glee Club, and a brand new budget of gossip by "The Fair Incognitas"?

Glendale has talent enough and to spare to give a delightful evening's entertainment, well worth whatever price of admission be charged.

Does some one "move the previous question"? Good enough. That shuts off further debate.

What, then, in your judgment, is Glendale's strongest inducement for newcomers to locate here?

Mr. Lilly sprung something new on us. "Free carfare between Glendale and Los Angeles."

We all looked amazed. But it is very simple, said Mr. Lilly. It is like this. Whoever buys a home in Glendale soon, or owns a home now, will make so much money on the investment, that carfare will be covered many times over and will not be considered at all. He and Mr. Vesper showed that though Los Angeles flat rate on public utilities seemed lower, her taxes really make it higher. Simple fact. Mr. Hartmann noted the short time between Sixth and Broadway, Los Angeles, and Glendale, only from 25 to 30 minutes; for there is practically no obstructing traffic. Sometimes, in almost every day, it requires much longer than that to get out to 63d street in south L. A. Besides, said Mr. Cowan, it is a beautiful ride all the way.

Dr. Johnson noted our freedom frfom winds, no small consideration in Southern California. Mr. Woodberry demonstrates that Glendale has unparalleled water, pure and undefiled, and plenty of it for all purposes. Furthermore, to go up where that crystal-clear cool water comes from, one may not be shown all the kingdoms of the earth, but one can view scenes of beauty beyond compare. The Secretary-Manager is eagerly looking forward to the promised trip up there to see it for his own self. Mr. Bentley lays stress on Glendale's freedom from mud and dobe. "Now, ain't that the truth?" (as they confirm in Arizona)—known to those of us who have lived in other places in Southern California—as nameless here forevermore, as the maiden Poe's raven refused to give away. So it went on, till the meeting adjourned regretfully, with a feeling of good fellowship which argues well for future action by Glendale's Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Edward M. Howes, of Clinton, Iowa, a new resident, says he is here because Glendale suits him better than any other place he ever visited. He has had ample opportunity to compare Glendale with many attractive cities, but—he hands it to Glendale.

The cigar dealer, W. W. Poste, at the entrance of the Montrose R. R. offices (the front one occupied by the G. C. C.), promptly answered: "Why, Glendale is the Italy of the Western World." Good stuff. Mr. Ezra Parker said: "I could tell you many reasons; but all can be given in few words: Glendale has all the good points of any town in California—and then some. Glendale is a summer resort." (Numerous others have promised answers in a day or two. Everybody has a good one.)

HOLY SCRIPTURES CONTAIN ALL NECESSARY FOR SALVATION SAYS REV. KNOX

That uncertainty in Christian living is as disastrous to true religion as a slipshod method of transacting business is to the merchant, was the statement of Evangelist Philip L. Knox in his discourse at Evangel Hall, 115 South San Fernando Road, Friday night. His subject was, "The Bible or Tradition."

"No man going into business would be so foolish as to do so without first counting the cost," said Mr. Knox. "The successful merchant studies the entire situation before going into business. He carefully weighs the matter, and at every step lays his plans after mature thought. But in matters of religion many are satisfied to drift along, not knowing definitely what they believe or why they believe it. Some belong to one church, while they live in one town, and join another denomniation when they move to another place, with but little thought of what each church teaches.

"The Bible admonishes us in First Peter 3:15, 'Be ready always to give to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you, with meekness and fear.' God expects us to have at hand Scriptural proof for our faith. He expects us to know exactly what we believe, and exactly why we believe it.

"Paul tells us in his second letter to Timothy, the third chapter and sixteenth verse that 'all scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.'

"When the Apostle Paul wrote these words, the New Testament was not in existence. The Apocalypse was written 50 years after Paul made that statement. What was it Peter and James and John preached from? It was the books of the Old Testament. Both the Old and New Testaments are inspired by God. They are profitable for doctrine. A doctrine is a belief, and Christians do well to know that their doctrines are founded on a 'Thus saith the Lord.' Some are prone to cling to the New Testament, but discard the Old. Christ said, 'Search the Scriptures.' The New Testament did not exist when he said those words, so we see the importance of accepting the whole Bible as our rule of faith and practice.

"Protestants stand upon the platform of the Bible, and the Bible only, as the guide for Christians. Except for this platform there would not be a Protestant to-day. What they protested against was a belief in the Bible plus tradition. Tradition has given us many things for which there is no sanction in the Bible.

"The Methodist discipline says truthfully that 'the holy Scriptures contain all things necessary to salvation, so that whatsoever is not read therein nor may be proved thereby is not to be required of any man that it should be believed or be thought necessary to salvation.'

"The same thought is contained in the Presbyterian Catechism, page 22: 'Question. What rule hath God given to direct us how we may glorify Him? Answer. The Word of God, which is contained in the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments is the only rule to direct us how we may glorify our Maker.'

"These statements are true. This is the Protestant platform, and the one upon which all should stand. But the observance of Sunday rests solely upon tradition, not upon any command of the Bible. There is not a line in the Bible authorizing the sanctification of the first day of the week. Furthermore, the Bible says, 'From even to even shall ye celebrate your Sabbath.' Then God expects us to observe the Sabbath from sundown to sundown, and if that is true, even though Sunday were the Sabbath, which it is not, Protestants are breaking it when they keep it from midnight to midnight according to the modern method of counting time. Let us be consistent Protestants, standing firmly upon the Bible and the Bible only as our guide in all religious matters."

Evangelists Knox and Celian Andross have prepared a most interesting program for this week. The meetings will continue every night.

GOOD NIGHT!

Mr. Jones was operated on for appendicitis. He was placed in a small ward to recover from the anesthetic, his bed being between those of two patients previously operated on. As he awoke from the anesthetic he said: "Thank heaven, that's over."

"Oh, no," said the patient no his right, "when I was operated on the doctor left a sponge, and had to go back and get it out."

"Yes, indeed," said the patient on the left, "and when I was operated on the doctor left the scissors and had to go back and get them."

Just then the surgeon put his head in the door and asked: "Has any one here seen my hat?" and Jones fainted.

Chapter A. H. of P. E. O. will have a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Edward Lynch, 907 Damasco court, on Friday. It will be philanthropic day.

Mrs. Emma Winters, who has been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Claude Case, 105 Maryland avenue, is gradually getting better, her friends will be glad to learn.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gannon of Aberdeen, South Dakota, were week end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mitchell, 805 Verdugo road. They were on their way to Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Sieg of Marshalltown, Iowa, arrived in Glendale Saturday evening for a visit with Mrs. Sieg's sister, Mrs. Wm. Crocker of 121 Cedar street, and her mother, Mrs. Armbruster. Mr. and Mrs. Sieg will probably spend several months in Glendale.

The annual Iowa picnic will be held in Eastlake park, Los Angeles, Thursday, February 22. If it is rainy on that date or just before it will be postponed to the first pleasant Saturday thereafter. Tourists and visitors will be warmly welcomed.

Mrs. A. M. Beamon of 245 Maryland avenue attended a very delightful party given by Mrs. Clarence Von Graham and Mrs. Ralph Bessell Clapp at the Woman's club house in Alhambra Monday honoring Mrs. Victor Clyde Forsythe of New Rochelle, N. Y. The afternoon was spent in playing hearts, auction bridge and five hundred, with a prize for each game and a very delightful time was had by the many guests from Alhambra, Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena, and delicious refreshments were served in the club dining room. The party was a very elaborate one and many beautiful gowns were in evidence. Mrs. Graham is well known in Eastern Star circles, among whom she is better known as Nellie Dean Graham. She was district deputy grand matron last year and is now associate grand matron of the Eastern Star order.

INITIATE B. I. L.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Guthrie, 523 West Ninth street, was the scene of a jolly party Friday evening when the members of Chapter B. A. of P. E. O. initiated their husbands into the mysteries of B. I. L. Everyone joined heartily in singing the espesially selested opening ode, after which the initiation took place. The names of the candidates were called and twelve responded, though they had to think twice before they were sure that the names fitted them. The initiation was in charge of Mrs. Walter Stamps, Mrs. A. L. Weaver and Mrs. Harry Parker. If these gentlemen seem to sprout wings in the near future it is all on account of the vows taken. The grip and secret meaning of B. I. L. and P. E. O. were given by Mrs. Harry Parker, who also presented each one with a pin, of which they all seemed very proud. After these ceremonies were over a delicious supper was served in the spacious dining room where the table was beautiful with acacia blossoms and places were laid for twenty-six. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stamps, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cross, Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Willisford, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Kille, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Case, Mrs. Eva J. Cunningham and Miss Leta McCoy.

NEW THOUGHT

At 11 a. m. Sunday at New Thought Center "Anger and Righteous Indignation" was the subject of Edward S. Jerome's very practical and interesting lesson from the New Thought way of thinking. Temper rightly used without abuse is essential and necessary to every individual.

Dr. Frank Riley gave the evening lecture. Subject, "Resurrection With New Thought Interpretations." Also the doctor reviewed his past course of lectures on Bible subjects as understood from an entire spiritual point of view as symbolizing the soul's journey through matter.

At the close of the evening session a meeting was called to elect a new board and officers for the ensuing year. The center recognized the work the board had accomplished in the past year and complimented the old board by electing them to become the new with a few additional members to carry on the larger work for the Center's new year.

ALHAMBRA LOSES DISCRIMINATION CHARGE

Effort made by the Alhambra city commission to secure the same free telephone service to Los Angeles that is accorded Glendale and Burbank has been turned down by the Railroad commission on the grounds that Glendale and Burbank pay a sufficient higher local exchange rate to entitle them to the free service those cities are now receiving. The findings of the Railroad commission, just received at the Advocate office, outlines the decision as follows:

"The Railroad Commission has dismissed the complaint of the city of Alhambra, in Los Angeles county, against the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, in which the city alleged discrimination against Alhambra in rates for telephone service between Alhambra and Los Angeles. The burden of the complaint was that the company charged 10 cents for each message between its local exchanges in the two cities in both directions, whereas no charge is made from Los Angeles to Glendale and Burbank, and subscribers in those two cities are allowed 60 calls, without additional compensation, for individual service, and 50 calls for two-party lines. Calls from Glendale and Burbank to Los Angeles in excess of this limit are two cents each. Alhambra wanted the commission to direct the company to give the Alhambra patrons 60 calls to Los Angeles a month, and to Los Angeles subscribers unlimited switching to Alhambra.

"The Railroad Commission's decision to-day says that the sole question is whether the Pacific Company has established unreasonable differences as to rates for interchange service as between Alhambra-Los Angeles and Glendale and Burbank-Los Angeles.

"The Pacific company alleged that the telephonic conditions between these groups are historically different. When the Pacific company had competition, the Alhambra competitor charged 10 cents a message between Alhambra and Los Angeles. The Glendale competitor has always maintained unlimited service between Glendale and Los Angeles. The Pacific company, as far as Alhambra is concerned, followed its competitor in the 10-cent charge.

"The decision says that on the issue of discrimination, the fact is that telephonic conditions as between the Alhambra and Glendale exchanges are not comparable, because the local exchange rates, which must be considered in connection with the rates for service between the exchange affected and the Los Angeles exchange of the Pacific company, vary materially as between Alhambra and Glendale. The local exchange rates for business services in Alhambra are 50 cents, and in one case 75 cents less than the company's rates for the same service in Glendale, Alhambra subscribers for residence service may secure four-party residence service at 25 cents a month less than the cheapest residence service in Glendale. When the Glendale patron pays a higher monthly local exchange rate than in Alhambra, he to that extent pays for the greater privilege of inter-exchange service between Glendale and Los Angeles."
—Alhambra Advocate.

LECTURE ON FAR EAST

The residents of Glendale will have the opportunity of hearing and seeing something unusually fine if they avail themselves of it. Mr. Cameron Johnson, noted traveler and lecturer, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Key to the Far East," under the auspices of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, on Thursday, March 8, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Johnson will use 150 beautiful pictures, which he has taken and colored himself.. Claude N. Bennett, manager Congressional Information Bureau, Washington, D. C., says of his pictures: "The variety and comprehensiveness of the views are wonderful, their coloring most natural and pleasing." Put the date down on your calendar and do not miss seeing and hearing Mr. Johnson on the 8th of March.

one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me." No greater joy can fall to the lot of man than the consciousness of having lifted a portion of the burdens that have weighed heavily on the heart of some fellow traveler upon life's journey.

He who carires a ray of God's love and sunshine to the couch of a sick comrade, dispelling his gloom, turning his thought to the contemplation of higher ideals and more cheering outlook, has added a star in the crown of his own glorified manhood.

How glad we should be that those comrades whose memory we cherish to-day were spared to enjoy the blessings of home and the country they had fought to save; that they have lived these many years of useful citizenship in the enjoyment of the peace and prosperity of that nation which was "conceived in Liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal" and permitted to bear their share in the greater work—the building of a mighty nation whose flag is the emblem of liberty—helping to fulfill the prophetic and inspired words of our beloved President Lincoln, "That this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Why should we mourn for these comrades who have but passed the portals of a broader realization of life, of a greater unfoldment of the infinite possibilities that await them as the eternal facts of being are made known through the cycles of eternity? Our highest attainments here are but a mere foretaste of the things which shall be revealed in us as we attain to that stature of perfect manhood that images the infinite creator.

Could we wish to call them back while we linger upon the threshold; rather should we rejoice that our loss is their gain and strive to so live that when the summons comes which calls us to the great beyond that it shall have no terrors or sting, but ready to learn the lesson which the experience holds for us, fully realizing that nothing can be added to or taken from the sum of our Father's perfect work and only that can perish which is not of His creating. As the refiner's fire purges the dross from the pure gold, even so must all that is unlike the divine image be finally purged from individual consciousness, then shall we know the reality of which this life is but the symbol.

Finally, my comrades, let us rejoice that these and the countless hosts that have gone before, have joined in the galaxy of those other heroes to whom we pay our tribute of honor to-day, whose lives are an ever-increasing inspiration to all the world: Washington, Lincoln and McKinley.

TROPICO M. E. CHURCH NOTES

The Epworth League Bible study class was organized at the parsonage Saturday evening with about fifteen members. The class has taken up the "Life of Christ" as the study book. The class will meet on Thursday evenings instead of on Saturdays as first planned, and a social hour from 7 to 8 will be held before the lesson hour from 8 to 9. Rev. Don S. Ford is teaching the class.

The membership contest in the Epworth league began last Sunday night and so much enthusiasm has been manifested that it was necessary to bring chairs in from the larger church to accommodate all, about 75 being present. Will Hewitt is captain of one side and Will Marple captain of the opposing side. The second department of the league had charge of the service Sunday night and the subject of a playground between the social hall and the church was taken up and about $15 raised for the purpose. It is planned to have a basketball court, a volley ball court and a handball court.

Last night the league went down to the Fifth St. mission and a goodly number turned out in spite of the rain.

Tonight the Ladies' Aid will give a George Washington social and a short program will be given, after which the evening will be spent in games. The refreshments will consist of cherries and cookies in the shape of hatchets and chocolate.

Last Friday night a choir social was held at the home of Mrs. Lake, 225 West Cypress street, and an enjoyable evening was spent in games. Will Hewitt and Will Marple were a tie for the prize in the advertisement guessing game, and after a strenuous endeavor to secure the coveted prize by drawing straws Will Hewitt won and opening the package found it to be a cake of soap. Rev. Ford won the prize in the contest in which each one attempted to slide hearts down a string.

HAVE WE A CANNED CONGRESS?
(From the Philadelphia Inquirer)

Representative Randall, of California, who is the bearer of a name distinguished in the annals of national legislation, declares that this is a canned Congress, and that it can never appeal to those who like their legislation, as well as their food, freshly served. He is on the warpath and he has called a meeting of the odds-and-ends members of the coming Congress. He thinks a little group which he has designated, and which includes Socialists, Suffragettes, Progressives, and so on, may hold the balance of power, and in that event control the course of legislation.

He says that he would rather be chairman of and control the Rules Committee of the House than be President. Maybe, like Henry Clay, he may never be one or the other. He complains that "between the thought and action there is an impassable barrier of parliamentary piffle," and that he will not follow "an aggregation of psalm singers."

The metaphors of the gentleman from California are a little difficult for the effete Easterner, but if he really does one-fourth of the things he threatens to do there will be nothing stale or fish-like about the next Congress.

In any event, it begins to look as though the days of the "canned Congress" were at an end.

"That's what I call hush-money!" remarked a father as he put down the cash for a bottle of paregoric for the infantile members of his family.

NOTICE

NOTICE OF THE FILING OF THE ASSESSMENT FOR THE OPENING AND WIDENING OF BROADWAY FROM THE EAST LINE OF EVERETT STREET TO THE EASTERLY BOUNDARY LINE OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE, TOGETHER WITH A DIAGRAM OF THE DISTRICT TO BE ASSESSED FOR SAID IMPROVEMENT.

Public notice is hereby given that the City Manager and Ex Officio Street Superintendent of said city has filed with the Clerk of the Board of Trustees of said City of Glendale the assessment for the opening and widening of Broadway as contemplated by ordinance No. 262, together with the diagram of the district to be assessed therefor.

The date of the first publication of this notice is February 14, 1917.

All parties interested are hereby required to file in writing their objections to the confirmation of said assessment by said Board of Trustees with the said Clerk of the Board within thirty (30) days after the said date of the first publication of this notice, to wit:

On or before March 16, 1917.

Persons signing objections must give Post Office address.

J. C. SHERER,
City Clerk and Ex Officio Clerk of the Board of Trustees.

LA CRESCENTA

The sixth and last dance of the series given by the La Crescenta Dancing Club will be a cowboy dance. This dance has been postponed until after Easter. The February dance will be a masquerade and members and their guests will not be admitted except by card. Only masked dancers permitted on the floor until after 10:30.

New Route Signs

Automobile guide posts have been placed at the important road intersections between La Crescenta, La Canada and Glendale. In La Crescenta guide posts are located at the intersection of Los Angeles and Michigan Aves., Honolula and Los Angeles Aves., Ocean View and Michigan Aves., Montrose and Ocean View Aves., and at Honolula and Verdugo Road. The route signs were put up by the Southern California Automobile Club Association.

Mr. Chas. Barker, who has been recuperating after an attack of pleurisy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Wetherbee, is reported much better and hopes in a short time to be entirely recovered. Mr. Barker is a nephew of Mrs. Wetherbee.

A number of La Crescenta residents have been the recipients of blackmailing letters demanding money to be left in designated spots. These epistles, which were sent through the mail from Glendale, were judged to be the work of children. If so, these children should be discovered and taught the errors of their ways. The United States government does not countenance the use of its mails even for jokes of this kind.

The interior of the drug store, recently occupied by Wolf & Son, is being refinished and a rumor is flying about that it is to be rented to new tenants.

The V. B. Claflin home has been rented for three months to Mrs. E. Ward of New York.

Mr. Halloway, recently a teacher at Kramer's dancing academy, L. A., is teaching a class of twenty members at the schoolhouse weekly.

James Jones has entered into partnership with his brother, H. O. Jones, who recently began a taxicab business in Glendale known as the Dodge Auto Service. Two daily trips are made to La Canada for the High School students by this company.

The young men of the valley are organizing a baseball team and expect to play in friendly rivalry with Sunland, Littlelands and Canada. This is clean sport and the team should be upheld by the residents of La Crescenta.

Glendale High School students and the young people of the vicinity will be sorry to learn that Herbert Scheuner has left La Crescenta and is now residing with his sister in Los Angeles and attending school there. Herbert will be missed, not only in a social way but as drummer boy of the band.

The Henderson place on Rosemont avenue has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. Hitchcock of Los Angeles.

B. Middlekauf and family, who have rented the T. P. Dyer place for the past two months, will return to the city the first of March.

J. W. M. Burton has taken the foremanship of the project of clearing off the wide strip of land under the P. L. & P. line on the Verdugo Mountains. Work began recently at the power house at Eagle Rock and has progressed westward as far as the first ridge of the Verdugos. About forty men are employed.

The stone barn back of his home is being converted into an artistic studio by our popular artist, Mr. Seymour Thomas.

Some time in the near future the primary grade will present the play "Hansel and Gretel" and the higher grades will give "Mrs. Pat and the Law" at the school auditorium under the auspices of Miss Haugh and Miss Jones, the teachers.

Mr. Howard Reynolds of Rosemount avenue has recently added a large room to the front of his cottage, thereby adding much to its attractiveness. The stone fireplace within, built by Mr. Leon Bertrand, is a work of art. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds are justly proud of it.

The school trustees have provided the school with a new flag. No time was lost in flinging its folds to the breezes from the flagpole.

LA CANADA

The regular meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the La Canada Congregational church will be held at the parsonage on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 21st, 1917, at 2:30. Subject, "A New Era." Leader, Mrs. Harry Horn. We hope to have a good attendance as these meetings are interesting.

With the intention of planting a first class orange orchard, Mr. Riggs, who has recently purchased the Estelle place on North School street, has during the past week bought the eighteen acres covered with solid brush immediately joining his ranch on the north.

This eighteen acres has been known since the existence of La Canada as the "old brush patch." It has been the one drawback which has kept the valley from progressing with the same rapidity as other communities. People coming into the valley would turn back at the sight of that great mass of mountain sage brush decorating the middle of the valley.

The woman who owned this piece of property has been holding it merely as an investment. Not since the old La Canada grant was given, years ago, has a day's work of improvement been put on the property.

Mr. Riggs has a force of ten or fifteen men clearing the brush on the place. Before June he expects to have a new orange orchard planted out.

This is one of the greatest opening valves to prosperity that La Canada has yet experienced. It has been the dream of her life to get rid of that brush patch. Now people feel that School street will be a truly improved street.

After purchasing a couple of good sized lots on the south of Michigan avenue, adjoining the La Canada garage property, Mr. Jim Huntington of La Canada has started to build a modern bungalow.

These lots have been in the hands of Mr. Will D. Gould of Los Angeles for the past twenty years. Mr. Gould bought up large tracts of La Canada property in the early days and has been holding them as an investment. Gradually his land is being sold off, except the large tract, which he still holds, in the extreme east of La Canada.

Mr. Huntington has been in the blacksmith business in La Canada for the past two years. He has been waiting the opportunity during this time to get hold of these lots, upon which to make his permanent home. The work is being done by Cooper and Son.

Do men call you a success? Are you looked up to in your community? Are you, in your comfortable circumstances, watching the other fellow strive for that which you have gained.

Perhaps.

Or do men call you a failure? Is your life a blank despair? And do you want for material comforts?

But first, what do men call a success? The fellow who lives on his income, and spends it freely?

Perhaps, again.

But do you really believe that your position in the eyes of the world can make you a success?

Every man knows within himself wherein his weakness lies. Power and riches may prove a friend in need; yet familiar to our ears is the voice of conscience.

You know and He knows what life has meant to you. You know and He knows whether or not in the end you will be called a success. Our past is always with us, an everlasting light or shadow, as we make it.

No matter how man terms you in this work-a-day world; live right, speak the truth, right the wrong and, most of all, be a man.

True success is not attained in a night. Man is only in the making. Strive on toward Good and life will take its course.

After spending two weeks in the Thornycroft hospital at Glendale, in consequence of a severe automobile accident which occurred two weeks ago, Paul Arvidson, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stultz, has returned to his home in La Canada.

When the boy was taken to the hospital, the doctors doubted his speedy recovery. He was badly bruised and showed symptoms of broken bones. But aside from a few stitches taken in his arm and a few bad bruises, the boy was not seriously hurt. Although it will be several weeks before young Arvidson can be around again, he is improving as rapidly as possible.

Unable to make a success of his stage line running from La Crescenta through La Canada to Los Angeles, Mr. Fallin, proprietor of this line, has given up the jitney business and returned to his work in Los Angeles. During the summer and fall months of last year Mr. Fallin was making his money. He had three stages carrying passengers. All stages were filled each trip and he often turned away passengers. But after several requests to try "doing" Glendale at the same time, Mr. Fallin procured a license permitting him to travel through Glendale and Tropico. The extra expense incurred by this change amounted to nearly $400 a year. But prospects looked good for big money. Unfortunately, Mr. Fallin found that most of the people going back and forth from Glendale had the regular P. E. car books. In consequence trade in Glendale amounted to almost nothing Within a few months Mr. Fallin discontinued all local stops after leaving Montrose. As Fallin's stage began to pay again, the Flintridge stage line, running between La Canada and Pasadena, was started. This took much of Fallin's trade. The dilapidated condition of his stages caused Mr. Fallin to be overrun with delays and breakdowns. He steadily lost patronage. One discouragement after another caused the final outcome. Although Mr. Fallin was unable to "make a go" of it, the people of La Canada are grateful to him for his earnest efforts, and wish him sincere good luck.

TUJUNGA

THE OCTOPUS

Oh, know ye the place where the Octopus grows,
In the Valley of Rarest Delight?
Where it lifts up its head from the heart of the rose;
And creeps in the shade where the wild lily blows;
And strikes with its deadliest might.

Oh, know ye the power of the Octopus dread?
This monster with unnatural blight!
Who crushes the woman with merciless tread;
And sucks the heart's blood of the man almost dead;
Then his victims are left in their plight.

Oh, know ye the form which the Octopus bears?
In the guise of a human is he;
But tentacles hide 'neath the cloak that he wears;
Under cover they seek for the flesh that he tears—
And he smacks his lips in his glee.

Oh, know ye the place where the Octopus breeds?
And the kind of his offspring and fame?
It were wise to inquire, "What are his needs?"
And then you may know his deeds grow weeds;
And his hate is more honor than blame.

Beware of his handclasp and smile!
Remember his breath bears the message of death;
The venom of vipers lurks in his breast;
And his friendship is but to beguile.

But rouse ye! But rouse ye! Dare to think! Be a man!
There's a secret his power can't withstand.
Be positive; brave; stand together to save;
The dangers learn, and your self respect earn;
For 'tis you gives the Octopus power.

—Diana.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, who have been occupying the Miles property on Stevensway, have moved to Eagle Rock.

Miss Stella Weiman, who is employed in Los Angeles as a nurse, is taking a much needed rest and short vacation with her parents on Elcentro street.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker have leased the Miles property on Stevensway and are now at home to their friends in their new home.

David White, who recently leased the Wood property on San Ysidro street, has arrived and is now domiciled therein.

Mr. Nicholson of Los Angeles is now the new tenant of the Dunning property on Elcentro street.

Mr. Porter of Los Angeles, who recently purchased a lot on Sunset boulevard, has his store building well under way and will open a lunch and soft drink emporium as soon as the building is completed.

During the last two months no less than twenty-five new residents have been added to our population, and many more are waiting until accommodations can be provided for them. The intrinsic value of our climate is destined to make Tujunga one of the leading health resorts in the United States. Very few states but what have a representative here now, whose primary object is the betterment of his or her health.

Facts and Comment

The Mission play will open at the Mission playhouse in San Gabriel for a season, commencing Tuesday, February 20.

Thirty-one lemon growers, representing about 400 acres, have organized the Lemon Heights Citrus exchange at Upland. A packing house will be erected in the near future.

Pasadena's tourist population is estimated at 15,000 at the present time by railroad and hotel men. The winter population is one-fourth greater than it was last season. There are 2000 guests registered at the four large hotels—the Maryland, Huntington, Green and Raymond.

San Fernando is considering a display and free distribution of oranges in lonnection with its seventh annual high school track and field meet on March 10, which is Orange day. At a recent meeting of the publicity committee of the track meet it was agreed to co-operate with the Orange day committee.

The board of supervisors of Orange county has ordered a warrant for $250 issued as a contribution to this year's California Orange day. This contribution will be augmented by donations from the citrus and business interests of Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton and other cities of that section.

An election will be held in Eagle Rock on March 2 for the citizens to vote on the $65,000 bond issue for three new schools. If the school bonds carry a small school building will be erected in the east and west ends of Eagle Rock and a fine modern building to cost $40,000 will be erected on the central site.

According to the Brawley News, $2.75 a crate was paid for lettuce at Brawley on the platform, the highest price paid in the history of the state, and much of the output of the past week contracted for at prices that would net the growers between $300 and $400 a car if the entire crop should bring similar returns.

Rev. David Higgins, the oldest minister of the gospel in the United States, died on February 2 in Pasadena at the age of 99 years. His ambition was to live to be a hundred. As a thinker, writer and speaker his contributions to the church have been great. His latest book, "Human Nature," was published last year.

Police Commissioner Paul F. Higgs of Pomona wants the Pomona city council to pass an ordinance requiring that all jitney drivers be of average height and not less than twenty years of age. He stated that several of the Pomona jitney bus companies were employing youths who were too small to reach the foot pedals on the car.

Orange orchardists of Southern California will hold a meeting in Pomona on March 2 at 1 o'clock at the chamber of commerce building to discuss the problem of heating orange groves when threatened by frost. The matter of eliminating the smoke and smudge will be considered and the effects of black smoke and gray smoke will be investigated.

Pomona valley has a cabbage king, according to the Pomona Progress, in the person of L. C. Johnson, who has 50 acres of cabbages under cultivation on approximately 70 acres a ton here and $100 a ton in New York. Before Mr. Johnson gets through planting he will have upwards of 490,000 cabbages under cultivation on apporximately 70 acres of ground.

The California Lima Bean Growers' association has secured a market at $7.50 for all beans that can be delivered in September. This announcement was made recently by Secretary Sifford of the Ventura association, which met in the city hall for the consideration of the new contract, which later was enthusiastically and unanimously endorsed. —Oxnard News.

A two-room school building to cost $4000 is to be erected in Mission Acres, south of San Fernando, to accommodate the growing juvenile population of that section. Following the donation of an acre of ground for a children's playground at Mission acres, steps are being taken to improve it with an assembly hall, library, tennis court, croquet grounds and a small park.

A second Federal Land Loan association was formed in Whittier last week at a meeting called by the chairman of the bureau of the Whittier chamber of commerce. The first of these organizations was formed last month. This last association will be called the Whittier Lands National Farm Loan association. The sum total of the applications for loans will exceed the $50,000 mark.

A branch department of the State Insectary will be established in the section of Southern California that satisfies the State Horticultural commission that it has the most insect pests. Upland has petitioned State Horticultural Commissioner Hecke for a branch at Upland, but he finds that Upland is comparatively free from pests and believes that it should be in the locality most prolific in pests.

The executive committee of the Alhambra factory campaign has announced that all negotiations with the Moreland Truck company have been definitely dropped as that company refuses to enter into a contract of sufficient guarantee to the subscribers to the fund for the purchase of a site. Alhambra people in the beginning were assured that the Moreland company was intending to make an expenditure of one and a half millions of dollars on the erection of a plant and its equipment, and employ ultimately 1500 to 2000 men. The committee were notified later that the company wished to make a counter proposition, which was found to not comply with earlier proposals. The original contract was returned to the company which finally refused to sign it, hence the announcement.

PROSPEROUS WALNUT YEAR

The greatest revenue ever obtained by the 2204 members of the California Walnut Growers' association for a single season's crop was $2,882,814, derived last year from the sale of approximately 70 per cent. of the entire yield of the state, 27,410,000 pounds. Although the total yield in California in 1916 was 2,240,000 pounds less than the preceding year, higher prices increased the revenues of the association's growers by $376,295.

According to the annual report of walnuts handled during the harvest of 1916 exceeded by 5 per cent. the percentage of the crop cared for during the harvest of 1915.

More than 36,800,000 pounds of walnuts were brought into the United States last year. The amount exceeds any previous importation. Regardless of this fact, California walnuts were sold more quickly than during any previous season.

A DOUBTING FATHER

George Manville Fenn was in the Reform club one afternoon, says a London journal, when he noticed that an old gentleman, a friend of his, was looking rather perturbed, so he inquired if there was anything the matter. "Well," said the old gentleman, "the fact is my son has got a play coming out to-night, and I fear it will be a ghastly failure. He can write pretty little plays when he likes, but this one he has written is a nonsensical sort of a thing, and I'm sure it won't do at all. However, I suppose I must go and see it." The son's name was William S. Gilbert, and the play was "Trial by Jury."

THERE'S A REASON

A countryman started off to the city on a train. There was a sheriff across the aisle and a man in handcuffs.

"What's wrong with him?" he asked.

"Bugs," said the sheriff, pointing to the prisoner's head. "He's crazy."

"Bugs in his head and his hands handcuffed," said the man. "No wonder he's crazy!"
